

High Days and Holidays

Let's prepare a 'Party Piece'!

When John Muir was a little boy in Dunbar, there was no television, radio or screens of any kind.

He and his family used to gather round the log fire.

They told stories and sang songs.

When John grew up, he always carried a book of the songs and poems of Robert Burns.

After we've finished our Home-school work today, we are officially on our Easter Holiday- Hurray!

Why not practice: playing a tune; singing a song, reciting a poem, learning a fact, working a magic trick, dancing a jig or carrying out a gymnastic routine?

Then we could make up a programme, it might look something like this:

.....

Show starts at 7pm sharp!

'Let it go' by Millie.

A Magic Trick by Hamish

'Dancing Queen' by Mum

Dad sings The Blues

.....

Don't forget to prepare Drinks and Snacks for the interval!

.....

Have Fun!
