

Before and After

Here are two photographs of the same thing

Before

After

Throughout the year, there are ongoing changes out in the natural world.

However, during the Spring and Summer, especially, we can see some changes happening within a few minutes, hours, days or weeks.

The Daisies in the photographs were opening up before our very eyes.

Some things/creatures in nature go through much more noticeable changes, making them almost unrecognisable.

Here are a few other photographs. Some are Before. Some are After.

Why not see if you can guess, then draw the missing image.

1. Before.

You draw the 'After' image.

2. Before (After?!)

You draw 'After' image.

3. After

You draw the 'Before' image.

The following are Foods which are first grown on a plant, then made into something to eat/use in cooking.

4. After

You draw the 'Before' image.

5. After.

You draw the 'Before' image.

Tomorrow we will show you the other images.

Let's see if we got it all right?!
